"Quote" of the week

"The devil loves to fish in troubled waters."
 —John Trapp

Visitors, Welcome to our gathering! Join us in worship and fellowship

In these days of social distancing we won't hug you or shake your hand, but we welcome you into our gathering.

Please join us in worshipping God as we sing, pray and read the Bible. We also share communion each Sunday remembering the sacrifice of Jesus who gave himself to die for our sins. If you wish to partake with us, you are free to do so.

We hold the Bible to be God's inspired message for us and hold it in highest esteem.

If a question comes to mind, please ask it. We will try to help you find answers from God. If you would like to request a special prayer, please let us know.

Those Scheduled to Serve:

Bible Verses People Get Wrong (1)

This is based on an article I recently saw that was written by Kathy Howard. She points to two reasons why we often take the wrong things from Scripture. 1. Perspective - Too often we read God's Word with our own purposes and goals in mind. But the Bible is all about God. When we read it with His eternal purposes in mind, we will better grasp the truth of His Word. 2. Context - The Bible may have unlimited applications, but its meaning never changes. It means the same today as it did when it was written. To understand the original meaning, we must pull back and understand the context - of the passage, of the chapter, of the book.

Here are some verses we often see misapplied because of a failure to consider perspective and/or context.

1 Corinthians 10:13 (NIV)

No temptation has overtaken you except what is common to mankind. And God is faithful; he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can endure it.

Many Christians claim this verse as a "promise" that God will never allow them to experience more difficulties than "they can handle." Yet, the larger passage (1 Corinthians 10:1-13) deals with temptation and our ability to withstand it. God promises He will always provide a way for us to say "no" to temptation. In fact, Paul learned by experience that God will allow us to face circumstances "beyond our ability to endure" so that we will learn to rely on Him (see 2 Corinthians 1:8-1).

Proverbs 22:6 (NIV)

Start children off on the way they should go, and even when they are old they will not turn from it.

Misunderstanding Proverbs 22:6 as a promise has led to grief for many parents. The book of Proverbs is wisdom literature, which offers general principles for successful living. A proverb is not a promise. Instead, let us use it as a tool for wise parenting and decision-making, and entrust our children to our faithful God!

Psalms

1. Psalm 1, 2, & 3
2. Psalm 4, 5, & 6
3. Psalm 7 & 8
4. Psalm 9 & 10
5. Psalm 11 & 12
6. Psalm 13, 14, & 15
7. Psalm 16 & 17

Questions to answer each day:

1. What is the main theme of this Psalm?
2. What does this Psalm teach you about God?
3. How can what you just read inform your thoughts, words, and actions?

Alex is still suffering with pain and finding it difficult to sleep. Her next surgery is to be November 18th.

Ruby has met the criteria for being treated for multiple myeloma. She will learn tomorrow when the chemo treatments will begin. They will continue for 16 weeks.
