Visitors, Welcome to our gathering! Join us in worship and fellowship.

In these days of social distancing, we may not hug or shake your hand, but we welcome you into our gathering.

Please join us in worshipping God as we sing, pray and read the Bible. We also share communion each Sunday remembering the sacrifice of Jesus who gave himself to die for our sins. If you wish to partake with us, you are free to do so.

We hold the Bible to be God's inspired message for us and hold it in highest esteem.

If a question comes to mind, please ask it. We will try to help you find answers from God. If you would like to request a special prayer, please let us know.

Don't Save It For The Funeral

An elderly man lay dying in his bed. In death's agony, he suddenly smelled the aroma of his favorite chocolate chip cookies wafting up the stairs. He gathered his remaining strength and lifted himself from the bed. Leaning against the wall, he slowly made his way out of the bedroom and with even greater effort forced himself down the stairs, gripping the railing with both hands. With labored breath he leaned against the door frame, gazing into the kitchen. Were it not for death's agony, he would have thought himself already in heaven! There, spread out on the kitchen table, were literally hundreds of his favorite chocolate chip cookies. Was it heaven? Or was it merely one final act of heroic love from his devoted wife, seeing to it that he left this world a happy man? Mustering one great final effort, he threw himself toward the table. His aged and withered hand made its way to a cookie at the edge of the table, but his wife suddenly smacked it with a spatula. "Stay out of those," she said. "They're for the funeral!"

She's not the only person to save something for a funeral that should have been shared long before. It often seems a shame that flowers are sent at a funeral rather than beforehand when they could truly be enjoyed. Many of the comments made at a funeral reflect the realization that we didn't express our feelings adequately to those we love while they were alive. "What a wonderful friend he was!" "I never told her how much I appreciated her and what she meant to me!" "I hope he realized how much I loved him!"

If someone means something special to you, don't save it for the funeral. Share it with that person now!

"Therefore comfort one another and edify one another, just as you are doing" (1 Thess. 5:11).

Songs for Wednesday nights: I decided it would be nice to have everyone have a hand in selecting songs for Wednesday evenings. I think it has gone well, and I appreciate your participation. I have had a hard time keeping up with who I've asked and remembering to ask on time. Thus, I'm asking those who like to participate to give me a list of 4-6 songs you would like to hear. I will then cycle through them and ask again when that lot is finished. I think it's nice to hear our favorites from time to time.

Let's chat today about the process of getting cards and a gift to Betty for her birthday on March 6.

Ruby's final chemo treatment is on Friday. The first step toward her stem cell transplant is scheduled for Friday, March 5.
