Use this space to note an idea from the sermon that you would like to remember:

“Quote” of the week

"The people of God are not merely to mark time, waiting for God to step in and set right all that is wrong. Rather, they are to model the new heaven and new earth, and by so doing awaken longings for what God will someday bring to pass."

—Philip Yancey

Visitors, Welcome to our gathering! Join us in worship and fellowship.

In these days of social distancing, we may not hug or shake your hand, but we welcome you into our gathering.

Please join us in worshipping God as we sing, pray and read the Bible. We also share communion each Sunday remembering the sacrifice of Jesus who gave himself to die for our sins. If you wish to partake with us, you are free to do so.

We hold the Bible to be God's inspired message for us and hold it in highest esteem.

If a question comes to mind, please ask it. We will try to help you find answers from God. Please let us know of any way we can serve you.

When I am Old and Grayheaded by Mike Riley

Many of the younger generation believe that getting older means becoming obsolete. However, it can mean serving, growing, and maturing in the Lord's service to the end of our days (cf. Philippians 3:12-15; 2 Timothy 4:7). T.S. Eliot once stated: "Old men ought to be explorers," to which this writer is in complete agreement.

Contemplating the idling away of our last years, is to rob God and ourselves of what could be the best years of our lives and to deprive the church of talents God has given to enrich it (Matthew 25:14-15; cf. Romans 12:4-8; Ephesians 4:11-15). Brethren, there is still service to be rendered and there are victories yet to be won (cf. Joshua 14:5-15).

Some older folks may not have the energy or inclination for leadership, but they are an invaluable asset to the next generation of leaders. An elderly, but dedicated and involved Christian, was once asked what he would do if he knew he had only a short time to live. He responded:

"I'll be teaching others the saving gospel of Christ till the moment that I am called to yield my spirit back to Him that gave it." (cf. Ecclesiastes 12:1-7).

What a great attitude and Christian commitment! (1 Thessalonians 2:1-4 KJV; cf. 1 Timothy 6:20 KJV; Titus 1:1-3 KJV)

The Psalmist also desired to pass along his understanding of the Lord to others, and he prayed:

"When I am old and gray-headed, O God, do not forsake me, Until I declare Your strength to this generation" (Psalm 71:18).

In our later years, we too should remain open to being used by God for enriching the spiritual lives of future generations through the teaching of His word (Psalm 78:1-7; cf. 2 Timothy 2:1-2; Matthew 28:19-20; Mark 16:15-16).

*The longer we live, the more that we know,
Old age is the time for wisdom to show;
Who knows how much good some word we might say
Could do for the leaders of some future day. —Bosch*
