“Quotes” of the week

"Love doesn't just sit there like a stone, it has to be made, like bread; remade all the time, made new."
 —Ursula K. LeGuin

Visitors, Welcome to our gathering! Join us in worship and fellowship.

In these days of social distancing, we may not hug or shake your hand, but we welcome you into our gathering.

Please join us in worshipping God as we sing, pray and read the Bible. We also share communion each Sunday remembering the sacrifice of Jesus who gave himself to die for our sins. If you wish to partake with us, you are free to do so.

We hold the Bible to be God's inspired message for us and hold it in highest esteem.

If a question comes to mind, please ask it. We will try to help you find answers from God. Please let us know of any way we can serve you.

Don't Save It for The Funeral

An elderly man lay dying in his bed. In death's agony, he suddenly smelled the aroma of his favorite chocolate chip cookies wafting up the stairs. He gathered his remaining strength and lifted himself from the bed. Leaning against the wall, he slowly made his way out of the bedroom and with even greater effort forced himself down the stairs, gripping the railing with both hands. With labored breath he leaned against the door frame, gazing into the kitchen. Were it not for death's agony, he would have thought him-self already in heaven! There, spread out on the kitchen table, were literally hundreds of his favorite chocolate chip cookies. Was it heaven? Or was it merely one final act of heroic love from his devoted wife, seeing to it that he left this world a happy man? Mustering one great final effort, he threw himself toward the table. His aged and withered hand made its way to a cookie at the edge of the table, but his wife suddenly smacked it with a spatula. "Stay out of those," she said. "They're for the funeral!"

She's not the only person to save something for a funeral that should have been shared long before. It often seems a shame that flowers are sent at a funeral rather than beforehand when they could truly be enjoyed. Many of the comments made at a funeral reflect the realization that we didn't express our feelings adequately to those we love while they were alive. "What a wonderful friend he was!" "I never told her how much I appreciated her and what she meant to me!" "I hope he realized how much I loved him!"

If someone means something special to you, don't save it for the funeral. Share it with that person now!

"Therefore comfort one another and edify one another, just as you are doing" (1 Thess. 5:11).

News & Notes

Happy Birthday to Scottlynn today!

GIC: Cheryl informs us that our GIC has matured. It is proposed that we invest $10,000 in a 3-year term, 10,000 in a 2-year term and 10,000 in a 1-year term GIC. When each matures, if it not needed, it will be reinvested for a 3-year term. There would be funds maturing each year so if we need them we will have access without penalty.

Surgery: Robyn's sister-in-law Ann is scheduled for cancer surgery on Friday.

Donations for Homeless: Since the goods were not longer needed at the Integrated Hub, and both Home Based Housing Shelter and St. Vincent De Paul were not accepting donations we still have them. Lionhearts didn't respond to request about clothing donations, so we still have them. You may either take your things back or leave them to be donated to St. Vincent De Paul when they begin accepting again March 1.

What's a Christian?

A little boy once asked his dad what a "Christian" was. The dad replied that a Christian is a person who loves and obeys God. He loves his friends and neighbors and expresses his appreciation for other Christians. He even loves his enemies and prays for them that they might be blessed. He prays often and blesses God's holy name in reverent worship. He is kind, considerate, gentle, courteous in his speech and in his selfless attitude. He lives a life that is pure and holy and is a Christian through and through.

The little boy thought for a moment and then asked another question.

"Daddy, have I ever seen one?"
